BAKO BULLETIN

From the office

The last month has been a busy one with our team planning for our upcoming Trade Show here at Bako Wales. From discussions with suppliers to ensuring everything is ready for us to welcome you on the 19th of May.

Along with planning for our own event, our account managers headed to The Welsh Baking Conference hosted by Zero2Five. This event proved to be a great day and saw our account managers network with a range of businesses and industry professionals.

To end the month, Barry Callebaut visited Bako Wales HQ to provide training on their wide range of chocolate products. The team received training on the different types of chocolate available in the Barry Callebaut range, along with how each product fits in bakery applications. This was greatly welcomed to improve our knowledge on the products to help us provide the best advice possible for our customers. They were also kind enough to bring tasters of their chocolate which went down a treat with the team.

From our suppliers

The last few months have brought a handful of mergers between suppliers.

Back in December of last year, Bakels announced the acquisition of the JF Renshaw business. This secured the future of the Renshaw brand. Although some products have been delisted since the merger, almost all of your favourite Renshaw products are still available. You may have noticed shortages in the Renshaw range over the last few months, these shortages have gradually become less and should now be back to normal.

At the start of February, Dawn announced the acquisition of Royal Steensma. Royal Steensma is a European company specialising in fat-based coatings, almond and confectionary pastes, bakery mixes, fruit fillings. If you use the Damco Cream Custard, you will already be familiar with the Royal Steensma brand.

We look forward to the future of these two brands and any new or improved products that come from these mergers.
